Psalter Hymnal (1987) #428

How gracious you are, my God and my King.
Of your sov'reign love I joyfully sing,
Of Jesus and His work to justify me,
That sinful yet righteous in Him I should be.

How freeing to know He took on my flesh
God's Law to fulfill by His faithfulness.
He satisfied ev'ry demand of the Law,
That He might have merit to credit us all.

How wondrous to hear Him say, "It is done."
You placed all my sins on your holy Son.
He went to the cross my dear Savior to be.
He suffered your wrath due to fall upon me.

Atonement He made by His sacrifice.
He died on the cross and paid the great price.
Your judgment he took and Your grace He bestowed,
As water and blood from His side sorely flowed.

How joyful to know Christ rose from the dead,
Forever to be my glorious Head.
His righteousness freely you reckon to me.
My life now is hid in Him eternally.
